

Monterey Bay Black Folks Event Calendar

December, 2022 Edition

About the Monterey Bay Black Folks Event Calendar

The purpose of the Monterey Bay Black Folks Event Calendar is to connect the Black Community of CSU Monterey Bay with the local Black Communities of the Greater Monterey Bay Area. The idea for the calendar came out of the community forums organized as part of CSUMB's annual super Saturday Black student recruitment events. The Calendar is edited by Steven Goings with new editions usually being released on Mondays (at least monthly; sometimes weekly depending on news and capacity).

Don't forget there is also a Facebook group: Monterey Bay Black Folks Calendar where you can post anything related to Black Folks directly.

- 1) To submit an event to the BFC for possible publication, click on this link: BFC Event Submission Form
- 2) To submit a "My Take" article, send a word document (NOT pdf!) along with your name and email address to sgoings@csumb.edu
- 3) To submit a "In the Spotlight" biography/activities and photo of a community leader, send a word document and digital picture to sgoings@csumb.edu.

Editor's Note:

Throughout this newsletter, Blue Underlined copy (including above!) indicates a searchable link.

In Memoriam: James Claypool by Steven Goings

My heartfelt condolences to Mary Claypool, wife of James Claypool and the entire family, friends and loved ones. I was fortunate to serve with James some years ago as members of the executive committee of the Monterey County Branch NAACP.

Mr. Claypool died at the age of 79 on November 24, Thanksgiving Day, 2022. His wife Mary Claypool made the announcement of Facebook on November 26. Mrs. Claypool will provide an obituary soon, which the Black Folks Calendar will publish including details of an upcoming memorial in the next couple of weeks.

Mr. Claypool received a Certificate of Special Congressional Recognition from Congressman Jimmy Panetta on Veterans Day, 2022 "in recognition of outstanding and invaluable service to the community".

He served as a Personnel Specialist for the U.S. Army from 1964 to 1967, and (according to his LinkedIn account) served as the Economic Development/Redevelopment Manager for the City of Seaside for 32 years! He then started his business, Claypool Consulting in 2011.

In the Spotlight: Ben Jealous, The Sierra Club's New Executive Director

A welcome from Sierra Club President Ramon Cruz downloaded from

<https://www.sierraclub.org/default/2022/11/announcing-sierra-club-s-new-executive-director>

It is with great excitement that I write to you, as President of the Sierra Club, to share the news that the Board of Directors just voted unanimously in support of Ben Jealous, an experienced civil rights leader, community organizer, coalition builder, and social justice activist, to be our new Executive Director.

We're thrilled to welcome Ben to our organization. Ben's passion for the outdoors and commitment to fighting for the environment, and his work leading People for the American Way and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) – two of the nation's most influential groups pursuing equity and justice and protecting democracy – makes him uniquely qualified to lead the Sierra Club at these intersections as our journey continues to create a healthy and sustainable planet for all.

From early in Ben's life, he's spent his time in nature and communities devoted to activism, from growing up in a neighborhood of oceanographers in California to summers spent with his grandparents during the civil rights movement in West Baltimore. The first protest Ben organized at school was against timber clear cutting. He worked as a journalist exposing "cancer clusters" in rural parts of Mississippi and was the youngest person to serve as president and CEO of the NAACP, which launched its climate justice program under his leadership.

In Ben's own words about fighting for our future and the collective action it will take:

"My parents raised me to understand that the American experiment is both ongoing and fragile. Every generation must work to make our nation more just, and every generation must be vigilant in protecting our democracy. I've dedicated my life to doing both. In this existential moment in history, when planetary preservation is a human rights issue, we all need to consider pivots in our lives. Too many leaders still think that we can only create a growing economy if we sacrifice people, the wild, and even the planet itself. This flawed 'either/or' mindset--with its roots deep in our nation's history of colonialism--has led our planet to the brink. We now know better. We can both create more good jobs for communities that have suffered for too long and build a healthier, more sustainable future for everyone."

Ben is now joining the most influential grassroots environmental organization at a critical juncture. Ben's history and the Sierra Club's role in the movement are coming together at a time that calls for bold, activist leadership to make sure there are never environmental sacrifice zones or disposable people living in them. He will be the first person of color to lead the Sierra Club in its 130-year-old existence. This speaks to the meaningful moment we are in now, that more than ever, we must work with more and more communities who have been historically marginalized if we are to truly deliver on our mission to protect the planet for everyone.

There is so much to learn about Ben – who folks call a unifier, peacemaker, collaborator, and coalition builder – exactly what the Board of Directors decided the Sierra Club community needs right now. You can read about Ben on our website and follow him on Twitter, Instagram, and Facebook until he officially joins the Sierra Club on January 23, 2023. He will be starting at another turning point in history to enact the once-in-a-lifetime climate, jobs, and justice investments of the Inflation Reduction Act. Exciting and critical work is immediately ahead of us with Ben by our side.

Please join me in welcoming Ben to the Sierra Club, and thank you for being part of this next chapter and the change we will make together.

Jamelle Jones has served as a Lead Tutor for The Village Project, Inc. for ten years and has recently been promoted to Mae C.

Johnson Education Cultural and Enrichment Academy Coordinator. As a graduate of Monterey High School and a Seaside local, Jamelle understands the struggles of young people in this community and has developed a passion for helping them reach their full potential.

Jamelle is also a Cultural Warrior Healer for the Emanyatta Saturday School, a pilot program for children of African Ancestry that teaches them their true history and heritage while inspiring them to excel in all areas of life and live out the legacy of their Ancestors. He is academically and musically inclined, and his talent motivates the students he interacts with daily. Jamelle is currently attending Monterey Peninsula College and is pursuing a degree in Psychology. Jamelle is a community leader and a prime example of a Black male who is determined never to stop learning.

TIFFANY AVERY, LCSW

THERAPIST

Tiffany Avery is from Seaside, California, and graduated from Seaside High School. After spending several years in Los Angeles, Tiffany returned to Seaside and attended California State University of Monterey Bay (CSUMB), where she received a Bachelor's degree with distinction in Visual and Public Art. She continued her post-graduate education at CSUMB, received a Master's degree in Social Work, and is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker. With over 15 years of experience working and collaborating with non-profit organizations in Monterey County, Tiffany has been recognized and awarded by the California State Legislator and the U.S. Federal Government for her community service efforts and achievements. Currently, Tiffany works as a Psychotherapist serving residents of Monterey County, providing advocacy and support to marginalized groups, specifically individuals and families living with mental illness and struggling with substance use.

KAMEIL RANCIFER
MSW STUDENT INTERN

Kameil Rancifer is a student intern at The Village Project, Inc., in the Master's in Social Work (MSW) program at California State University of Monterey Bay (CSUMB). She is from the Bay Area and attended California State University of East Bay (CSUEB) for her undergraduate, where she received a Bachelor's degree in Psychology and Black Studies.

Kameil developed a passion for community service and giving to those in need, which was instilled in her from a young age. She is committed to serving those in her community and reducing the stigma surrounding mental health. Kameil enjoys spending time with family, going to amusement parks, and record collecting in her free time.

BIG IDEA

The Village Project, Inc. supports the success of young scholars of the Mae C. Johnson Education and Cultural Enrichment Academy, 90 percent of whom are underserved as well as in need of culturally appropriate mental health services, educational support, and social advocacy.

To maximize opportunities, while minimizing our expenses, purchasing a green vehicle will give us the ability to transport clients and families to various services, while reducing our carbon footprint. The Big Idea will allow us to be proactive in our resources to continue a positive impact on our community's mental health especially our youth.
